I find that I need things to look forward to, which is why I'm pleased to say that the Mall Galleries have confirmed our dates for next year as July 5th - 11th, so please put the dates in the diary. We will let you have more details as we have them.

We are underway with our preparations for an online gallery on the SGFA website, where members will be able to show their work online. We will announce more details when we have them.

We had a number of regional shows lined up for next year and I am hoping that when we get to 2021, we may have a clearer picture of what can take place.

So once again stay safe and well and keep painting.
